Leta Nevada TAYLOR (daughter of William Dossan (Doss) TAYLOR and Mary Ivah Charity WILLDER) was born on Dec 6, 1893 in Grady Co, GA. She died on Oct 29, 1992 in Jacksonville, Duval Co, FL. My Granny, Leta Nevada Taylor

A book could be written about my Grandmother Draughon, but I will highlight some things I can remember. I recall that aunt Nell Dowling interviewed Little Granny late in life. She asked random questions and Little Granny gave her the answers. I recall one question was to tell about her first "home". She said that was in Dooly County, GA. The house was a tenant house and she had "papered" the walls with the comics section of the newspaper to keep out the wind. She said when other members of the family came to visit, the children wouldn't hardly eat for reading the comics!

She took her first train ride when they went to Dooly County to live. I'm sure that was quite an experience for anyone of her day. She told of her experience in tasting her first "Coke" (Coca-Cola). She said she had no idea of the "fizzle" taste of the drink and as she took her first taste, it almost "blew her head off". The first Cokes were more potent than they are today.

Leta Nevada Taylor Draughon was one of the most Bible literate individuals I have ever known. She read, and reread, the Bible many, many times and as she read, she did her best to interpret what she read. As she interpreted, she wrote her understanding of the scriptures. She gave me some notebooks containing her work and I shall always cherish them.

"Little Granny", as she was known by her grandchildren and great-grandchildren, was a quiet, peaceful individual and was a pleasure to be around. She always had something of value to impart to those who had the time to listen. It reminds me of the scripture that says "He who has an ear to hear, let him hear."

There could be much written about this wonderful, gentle lady, but the most important would be that she was one of God's angels on earth, always doing something good, for those whom she had the opportunity to know.

Little Granny was a wonderful gardener and could grow most anything. To say she had a green thumb would be stating it mildly. She worked the soil for the most of her near ninety-nine years on this earth. One thing she would do when she was working the garden would be to overdress considerably. Her take on this was that as she worked and got hot, she "sweated" profusely, thus wetting her garments. When they became wet, she became "cooler." I guess it worked well for her, because she always did it and it never caused her any harm.

When I asked what she attributed her longevity of life to, she said it was her faith in God first, and secondly, she dipped snuff and that warded off the germs! Again, I can't argue with her logic for a long life. As for me, I believe God left her here these many years to continue her witness of His grace in her life. She left a witness that will be hard to surpass by any of her offsprings, regardless of which generation they belong.

Leta Nevada Taylor Draughon was a woman among women!

We are all better, because she lived.

84. Wilma DRAUGHON (Charles Cooper (Charlie)-3, George Harmon-2, William Walter-1) was born on May 10, 1918 in Grady Co, GA. Note taken from W. D. Taylor's farm journal: May 10, 1918 Letta brought him a 5 pound girl. (Wilma Draughon Brinkley) Wilma was the third child of Charlie and Leta Nevada Taylor Draughon.

Wilma Brinkley was a hard working mother during her younger years, not altogether because she wanted to, because everything was done manually. There were no washing machines or dryers for the clothes, no dishwasher for the dishes, no vacuum cleaner, no fancy food processing gadgets nor even a garbage disposal. All of the chores were done by "female horsepower", plus assistance from her children, sometimes willing and sometimes not!

Even without the "gadgets" that did come her way as the years progressed, she did just fine, preparing the best vittles one could imagine, kept the house and yards clean. During the harvest season, when we would be gathering our crops, she would put a spread of food before all the folks who were working that was fit for a king. She knew exactly how to season vegetables to get their best flavor. She was especially good at cooking creamed corn, fried okra, and my favorite---chicken and dressing.

Mama was a fine seamstress, making a lot of our lothes, especially for the girls. She did a lot of quilting back then, because in the early years, it was our primary means of keeping warm during the cld winter nights; the colder the weather, the more blankets for warmth.

After the children left home, she started making clothes for dolls, something she continued the balance of her working years, until she was not able to make her hands do what her mind wanted them to. Many a child received a custom made doll, with hand sewn clothing by Mama.

Another love of hers was working in the flower garden, which was aways full of a variety of flowers. She kept her flower beds neatly arranged and clean of weeds. She was a "sharer" of her bounty, both from her flower garden and from the arsenal of canned goods; jelly, vegetables of all kind and her hot peppers. These things she learned from her mother, "Little Granny" Leta Taylor Draughon, as she was a champion gardner, too.

More caan be written about Mama, but I shall leave it to my brother or sisters, should they wish to do so.

Cecil Lamar (Buddy) Brinkley

Wilma DRAUGHON and Joseph Dawson (J. D.) BRINKLEY were married on Dec 1, 1934 in Grady Co, GA.

Joseph Dawson (J. D.) BRINKLEY (son of Benjamin Lloyd (Bennie) BRINKLEY and Katie Dell WILLIAMSON) was born on Apr 9, 1915 in Colquitt Co, GA. He died on Jan 29, 1992 in Colquitt Regional, Moultrie, Colquitt Co, GA. He was buried on Jan 31, 1992 in Pinecrest Memory Gardens, Mitchell Co, GA. J. D. served in the CC Camp, which was initiated by President Roosevelt in the aftermath of the "Great Depression". He was stationed in Soperton, GA, Camp P-61, Co. 1414, CCC.

Joseph Dawson Brinkley was the second child and the first son of Benjamin Lloyd and Katie Dell Williamson Brinkley. He would most often answer to the name of J. D., and to those most close to him, "Jake". He was my father. Jake was the stand-in father for his brothers and sisters, as they have said, for the father they didn't have, as he died when they were young.

I can remember from my early youth, until my father's death, that he was a man that certainly knew how to work and didn't seem to mind how much or how long. He gave me four things which have been the mainstay in my life as an adult. He taught me to work, to be honest, that a man's word was his bond and-----he gave me a good name!

My Daddy befriended most anyone who would let him know that he had a need, and in many instances, his generosity was simply taken advantage of. That didn't stop him from being "his brother's keeper" though. I admired my Daddy for his desire to help others, and most of the time, no one was the wiser of his acts of kindness.

I'll not say that he didn't have a few chinks in his armor, as we all do, but he did enjoy life rather fully. He could do almost any task that he put his mind to. No job was too tough for him to try and complete. His occupations were varied; a tenant farmer, an Inspector with the GA Department of Agriculture, salesman for Red and White Feeds, a country store operator, a home builder (he taught me much about building), fertilizer salesman, custom chemical applicator for farm crops, a true "gardener" and the occupation that he dearly loved, being a "Pecan Man" for over 35 years.

Daddy loved to fish all his life, hunt most of it and in his later years, he was one of the best gardeners in Mitchell County, giving away most of what he raised. Many folks have eaten from J. D.'s "garden". He was a Good Samaritan.

Daddy will always have a place in his family's heart, his friends speak kindly of him and businessmen knew him as a man that was completely dependable and trustworthy. God was good to me and mine to allow my father to be the second child and first son of Bennie and Katie Brinkley.

I miss him terribly! I loved him much! In all his life he had never spoken the words "I Love You" to me, but I can say with a thankful heart that on the morning of the day that he died, as I lowered my self over his bed, hugged him and said "Daddy, I love you", he grabbed me with all the strength he could muster and very boldly said "Son, I love you, too"! Words I shall never forget!

As I said in the beginning of this tribute-----He was my Daddy!

THE LIFE AND TIMES OF BUDDY BRINKLEY, A Personal History

Today I shall begin a compilation of information, which shall reflect on my past as well as present life, to the best of my recollection. I'm sure that the reader may sometimes disagree with dates, in the sense of accuracy, because they shall be general. So be it. I am interested in preserving some of life's wonderful events as they unfolded in my life, and which I believe have shaped me into the person that I am today. I am sure that I shall ramble, taking in many folks from many different families, because, if you're lucky, your life will have been influenced by many, many people. Most of the influence of others goes unnoticed and sadly, goes without thanks. Why is it, that in this life, we are so concerned with "me and mine" that we fail miserably at the little things, like please, and thank you? Well, someone else shall be responsible for writing a paper on why we are like we are. I shall begin my finite attempt to share some of my life's experiences which I hope may be worthy of the reader's time.

Buddy Brinkley

December 26, 1941

On this day in our history, Pearl Harbor had recently been bombed, and our country was knee-deep in a war! The automobile industry was coming to a screeching halt. We had very little need for new automobiles. Our sons (mere boys) were now at war! Those left in this country now had a new occupation overnight. Manufacturing. Tanks, trucks, of all sizes and shapes, airplanes, and every possible form of weaponry imaginable to date. Women were now in the mainstream of being the breadwinner and doing jobs never thought of before.

On a more peaceful note, one fat little boy, 10 lbs.+, was born to Joseph Dawson and Wilma Draughon Brinkley. The name given him was Cecil Lamar Brinkley. However, I don't really know why, because he has answered to either "Jaybird" (occasionally, in early years) or "Buddy" his entire life. The latter has served him well. My understanding was that this event happened in Grady Co., GA on Mr. Tom Faircloth's place. I can't seem to recall the event very well. I was the fifth child born to this couple. First, there was an unnamed daughter, then Joseph Weyman, Glenda Joyce, Wilma Janice, myself, and a couple of years later, the runt of the litter blessed our home, namely Judy Carolyn. The first and fourth child died as infants. The remaining four are alive and well.

J.D. and Wilma were just plain ordinary country sharecroppers. Their background was just about as simple as it got in those days. My Daddy worked for many years "for the other guy", Mr. Dutch Wilkes. However, he gave of his best and I remember he expected the same from his family. He knew how to work and didn't mind his share, and someone else's, if necessary. I remember him being a man who readily went upon the errand of his fellow man. He shared a great bulldog, called Major, who could catch anybody's hog, and did many times. He cut hair on Saturdays, Sundays and any other time you could catch him. He was not the life of the gatherings, but you knew he was there. I remember that he used to take us to the river below Cairo at a place called Hadley's Ferry. It was one of the more vivid memories of my youth. Along the same line, after we finished gathering tobacco, he would take us to Pope's Creek, for a good bath. It was there that I took one of the longest dives ever in my life. While holding onto his legs, as he sat between the banisters of the bridge, I finally mustered up enough courage to jump in---or "did he let me go?" I can't really remember, but it was fun.

There was one thing my Daddy could do that I never saw anyone else do, even though many tried. He would do a handstand against the wall, lower himself down until his head touched the floor, then would raise himself back up the wall, to a full handstand position. Try it sometimes, and let me know how you make out!

Mama was a typical farm mother. She tended to the home chores, with a small amount of help from us kids. She could put down a spread of food that couldn't be beat. It was what I looked for each day when I was in the field. You always expected the best, and you never were surprised. She did all the usual things Mamas did back then, without electricity, for many chores. Washing clothes for a farm family is a dirty, unending chore. I don't remember her complaining, though. She was big on "sunning the mattresses". In fact, she had Daddy build a sunning mattress platform in the back yard, the only one of it's kind that I recall ever seeing. I can remember going to bed on a freshly sunned mattress.

Mama was about as good at discipline as Daddy. One day, I can't remember the occasion, I made the mistake of running from Mama to avoid a whipping. I was in the house at the time. I headed for the front door when Mama called for Glenda to head me off, which she did. I reluctantly returned to the kitchen, where I received my "reward". The only other memorable "whipping" that I got (there were many more) was as a result of my running a hoe up and down the clothesline in the back yard. Unfortunately, it fell off the clothesline, and more unfortunately, it hit my baby sister, Judy, right on the head, cutting it rather bad. My Daddy loved us all, but I think that day, he really loved his baby, cause he gave me the whipping of my life! As bad as it hurt, both physical and emotional, I knew I really deserved it, even though the accident was unintentional.

Growing up in the country has it's rewards. Things like: go gather the eggs, bring in the wood, milk the cows, feed the hogs, draw the water, build the fire, pulling the weeds out of peanuts, working in tobacco (I absolutely hated to drive a sled, but loved to crop), picking up pecans, picking cotton and, thank God, only one year did I have the privilege of stacking peanuts! I can recall each day, after we had lunch, Daddy would allow us to doze for a few minutes before going back to the field. We would flip a straight chair up against the wall on the front porch, and that would be our "recliner". Oh, my aching back! It hurts now, just thinking of those days.

My uncle Lloyd was very special in my growing up years. He lived with us for a short time. I can remember that it was uncle Lloyd that first allowed me the privilege of getting behind the wheel of our 1950 Chevrolet truck, and steering it. He would do this while we would be going down the lane to the tobacco barn. He sure knew how to make one little boy happy. He always seemed like my brother, Weyman, too.

Another memory, of which I remember very little, except that we did it. On an occasional weekend, Daddy would take me to Albany, GA to see the small gas powered airplanes, controlled by leads, fly around the ball park, or perhaps open field. I can't remember which. This activity took place on the property that has been filled with flourishing activity for many years now; Slappey Drive. Driving down this business district today you would never think boys in their 50's and 60's would be thinking of the "good old days" of model airplanes flying in this former field!

So much has changed since our childhood days. Nowadays when I go by the old Dutch Wilkes place where I spent the years I recall on the farm, and look at the size of the farm now, wondering "has it shrunk?". It seemed an endless chore and took forever to go round up the cows and bring them to the barn. Now it seems like it would have taken only five minutes. The same thing is true about going to the store. We lived about a half mile at the most from Uncle Noah Creech's store, but it seemed like it would take forever to get there and back. I looked upon going to the store as some kind of punishment.

On the subject of the pasture, there was a stream which ran from the pasture North to our adjoining neighbor, Ether Norton's, land. I can remember going down there with a tobacco stick, run up and down the stream and wage war with dragon flies as they traveled above the stream. Now these dragon flies, better known as "mosquito hawks", were the enemy aircraft invading our territory and it was my duty to eliminate as many of them as I could with my "anti-aircraft gun", better known as a tobacco stick.

Many times did I wage war with the enemy. Like the tobacco stick, the "dog findle" was an important item in my youth. They provided the perfect "horse" for me to imitate Roy Rogers, Gene Autry or Hopalong Cassidy. There's no telling how many miles I traveled on my trusty stallion, chasing the bad guys and never once getting shot or falling off my horse! However, once I did get into a fight with my cousin, Buddy Akridge, over a pistol that I had received for Christmas. It was the most realistic pistol I ever saw. It would breach open and would accommodate a disc which had six caps, or shots, on it. Naturally, it being new, I didn't cater to the idea of sharing it with anyone. Buddy didn't think I should be so possessive, and proceeded to take the gun away from me. Whether he succeeded or failed, I can't really remember. The thing I do remember was, in the shuffle, I was struck over my right eye with the barrel of the gun, cutting me. I have, to this day, the gash to remind me that "it's better to give than receive". I remember Buddy most for his pleasant disposition. He always seemed to be happy, just not that day!

Another thing that comes to mind is, my Daddy would either go down to the banks of that stream, or send me, and get a real nice straight, full grown Elderberry trunk. From that piece of wood, he would whittle, gouge, carve and clean until he had made the perfect pop-gun. Now, the handle would be made from some other piece of wood: straight, solid and strong, which would serve as the percussion handle. It was cut to length of about half the distance of the barrel. Ammunition was provided from an ever present supply of Chinaberry trees on the farm. Chinaberries were the exact right size for the chamber of the Elderberry pop-gun. (Looking back, I guess Daddy searched for the right Elderberry trunk for the bullets). The way the gun worked was in this manner. You placed one chinaberry into the barrel of your pop-gun, took the plunger handle and shoved the berry about half way down the barrel. You then got another berry, placed it in the end of the chamber, pushed it about one inch. The gun was now ready for firing. You simply aimed it at your target and shoved the plunger forward quickly, and presto, you had a cannon, all your own. Since the second berry ended up in the middle of the chamber after firing, all you needed to do was insert another berry, and fire again. In later years, I made my son an Elderberry pop-gun, but it didn't seem to hold the magic for him that mine did for me. Perhaps it was because he had many more modern toys to choose from.

The "flip" was another integral part of your equipment down on the farm. No full blooded country boy would be caught dead without his flip-staff stuck in his left hand back pocket of his Dee Cee overalls! As I look back on the ceremony of finding the "right" staff for a flip, I wonder why I didn't get whippings for destroying a perfectly good Pecan limb, just to get a small staff. I firmly believe it was simply this: "A man's got to do what a man's got to do" to get the job done. My Daddy knew that a Pecan limb was the best material for a flip-staff, so he allowed me to destroy some good limbs for the perfect staff. On this note, I remember once, in Camilla, GA, when my brother, Weyman, and his sons, Brad and Brent were at Daddy's for a visit. I decided to show off my flip making talent, and make my nephews a flip. Well, the flip making went off without a hitch, but when it came time to try out their new weapons, we ran into a small problem. We searched two full acres of land, where Daddy's home was located in Camilla, and did not turn up the first rock! I could not believe my lying eyes! (My mind rambled back to days long ago at Pa Bryant's house, near New Home school. Now there was a rock heaven! I never recall seeing so many rocks in my life.) We found some rocks somewhere, I'm sure, to test out the flips, but I imagine that the flips meant about as much to them as Blaine's pop-gun did to him. Oh well, another time--another place--another thing.

Another thing! Did I mention that I had the privilege to learn about tobacco string "fireballs"? This was a Christmas treat that country folks would make from the string left over from unstringing tobacco. We would wrap the string in a tight ball about the size of a softball, soak it in kerosene for a few days, take it out and, at night, light it. We would quickly grab it and throw it in the sky. It was a bright light, sort of like a shooting star. It's a wonder we didn't get hurt doing such a foolish thing.

Another chore which I enjoyed was that of being the community "Grit Paper" boy. Daddy spent more money on gas than I made off the papers, but it was a good experience. Once when making our deliveries, it had come a rain early in the morning. I approached Mr. Horace Harvey's house to deliver his paper, as usual. I generally hit his front porch in a hurry, place the paper on the spring of the screen door, and return to the truck for my next stop. Well, little did I know Mr. Harvey had painted his front porch since my last visit. It was wet from the morning rain, and when I landed on the porch, my feet immediately slipped, and down I went, sliding to the screen door! No broken bones, just my disposition hurt a little. I suppose looking back, I realize I have always been "fired up" when I do anything. That is the reason for all my battle scars over the years.

Going too fast for the prevailing conditions.

Have I mentioned corn cob wars? Man oh man, corn cob wars were serious business. First, you gathered all the cobs you could find, break them in half, soak them for a day or two, and you now have "heavy artillery". We would choose sides, get a supply of cobs, and declare war! I remember cousins Larry Brinkley, Bill Taylor and Buddy Akridge, as well as myself, engaging in many a battle. It's amazing that none of us didn't get an eye put out, or worse.

My first cousin, Larry Brinkley, (Uncle Lawson and Aunt Vera's oldest) was more like my brother than my first cousin. I shared many a Christmas at his house. Many Christmases, we both were blessed by "Santa" with farming toys, and cap pistols, for sure. We would get out back behind the house and do some serious farming on December 25th each year. We shared a lot of quality time together. His mother, Aunt Vera, would make the neatest dessert I can remember as a child. She would take toasted rice, add marsh mellows, cook for a while and come up with some good eatin'. There's no telling how many of those things I did eat!

My most memorable event, while visiting Larry and his family, took place when they lived on the Porter place. As was the custom in those days, Saturday night was reserved for The Grand Ole Opry. Well, Aunt Vera had fixed our bed for the night, and we were listening to the Opry. At some point, I had the urge to go to the bathroom. Now back then, it wasn't the first door on the right, just past the den, but outside, several yards from the house. No youngster ever liked to go outside after dark, and I was no exception. Naturally, It didn't take very long, and I was back in the totally dark room. That is, except for the tiny little red light on the radio, which was still bringing us the Opry. Oh, did I mention that the room had a fireplace? Well, I called to Larry, and said "you better move over, I'm coming in". After positioning the bed on the correct side of the red light on the radio, I made a Superman dive for my side of the bed. The next thing I remember, Aunt Vera was holding me and rubbing my head with alcohol. I had a terrific headache. You see, I inadvertently made one simple error in my calculations regarding the red light on the radio. I simply placed the bed on the wrong side of the radio. You can guess what happened, I'm sure. I made a perfect flying leap, headfirst, into the open fireplace! I do remember saying to Aunt Vera, "I want to go home", but I don't remember if I did or not. Knowing her, I imagine she talked me out of it, since it was the middle of the night. Many years later, I took my revenge on that old fireplace, and at the same time made a permanent reminder of the nasty event. I heard that Jack Porter was going to build a home on the very spot where the old house was standing. He wanted someone to tear the chimney down, so he could move the house. I asked for the chore, and Jack agreed to give me the bricks in return for tearing the chimney down. My nephew, Lynn Roberts, and I removed the bricks and brought them to Cotton, GA, where I was building our new home. They now serve as a reminder of that weird accident. Larry and I are not as close as we used to be, but then nothing is "as it used to be."

I remember my early schooldays at New Home School. Mrs. Scott was the principal. Mrs. Harriett (Hoke) Braswell was my first and second grade teacher. Mrs. Alna (Jack) McClelland was my third grade teacher. I recall the big Camphor tree, the "bathroom", located quite a distance from the school house (no indoor plumbing, but so what, there wasn't any at home, either), recess, and the lunch room (Mrs. Smith's Tamale Pie, most of all). I recall that we could volunteer for lunch room duty, which was washing dishes. I didn't mind. In fact, I was eager to help, because Mrs. Smith would let the clean-up crew eat all the left over dessert we wanted! Those days were short lived, as we finally moved to Pelham. I didn't know it then, but the old saying "you may take the boy out of the country, but you can't take the country out of the boy", is so very true. All the years I lived in town, I longed to get back in the country. While we lived in Pelham, I had various jobs. One was working on the Harris Dairy milk truck, either with Chicken Harris, Jr. or his brother-in-law Jack Smith. We would deliver the milk around town to folk's front door, before day, in those nice glass quart jars. We also delivered to the stores in those not-so-nice-cases! They were pretty heavy for an 11 year old boy. I worked at the stockyard on Thursday afternoons until about 10:00 P.M. Some of the guys that I worked with at the stockyard were Jerone Salter, Lynwood Palmer, Neal Miller, Woodrow Wisham and Clarence (Hambone) Daughtry. Punching cows and being with my friends was just what I liked. Then there was the matter of working at Scott and Marshall's (rather Red and Doc's, to me). I think that they employed more of Pelham's youth than most other businesses--combined! It was the place to work. I'll never forget my experience working as produce clerk, when you actually waited on the customers, and enjoyed it! I never realized just how many Irish potatoes people eat, until I sacked them, and sacked them and sacked them! In my mind, Scott and Marshall is truly a Pelham landmark.

Part of my years was spent living in the "new" housing project on Baggs Avenue. Quite an improvement over anywhere I had lived up to then. New indoor plumbing! While at the project, my sister, Glenda, married Gerald Sanders and Daddy decided to build us our own home on the Harmony Road. Well, we worked on it at night, weekends or holidays until it was completed. However, we never occupied the home. Mr. Lutz, a yankee, who moved in from up the country, bought our new home. Needless to say, Mama was sorely disappointed!

After that, we moved to Colquitt County, GA. Our new home was a country store, with a dwelling attached to it. The store was Red Marshall's. We ran it for him. (or did it run us?) Actually, my brother, Weyman, made the trade to run the store, but didn't quite like it, and enlisted in the Navy. Well Daddy, Mamma, Judy and I had found another home. The folks in the Hamilton school community were some of the best neighbors anyone could have. We struck a deal to sell fertilizer for the C.O. Smith Guano Co. in Moultrie. Now that was a job. Another of our occupations, in addition to the store and fertilizer warehouse, was custom spraying. Daddy had bought a Hahn highboy sprayer. He and I did custom spraying. While at the store, Daddy decided to open a pecan warehouse in Camilla, GA., which was to become his love of jobs for the remainder of his life. Daddy was one of, if not the best, pecan men Mitchell County ever had.

My sister, Judy, and I both graduated from Moultrie High School. While living there, she married Stanley Coley from the Rose Hill community. She and Stanley have done well for themselves, both professionally and personally. I lucked up and found one Ruth Elaine Strickland, who was God's greatest blessing for me. We were married June 23, 1961. She has given me the two most wonderful offsprings a father could have: Melanie LaJayne, a daughter and Blaine Timothy, a son. My brother, Weyman, also married Joyce Scanlin July 01, 1961. They had two sons: Bradley Scott and Brent Steven.

When we married, we moved to Mr. Preston Fields' tenant house on the Mitchell-Colquitt county line road. We spent our first year there. The next year, Mr. Joe Cull Sellers, Sr., a builder in Pelham, and a relative by marriage on my mother's side, helped Elaine and I to purchase a new home in Pelham. He allowed us to move in this new home without a penny down! He paid the closing cost and allowed us to pay him back the following year, interest-free! He was very good to us. (talk about God's blessings!) Back to town! Well, it was O.K. I guess, but not the country. We lived there for about four years and decided to build a new home in Cotton, GA near Mr. and Mrs. Carl J. and Emily Rivers Strickland, parents of Elaine. After living in Cotton for about two years, Mr. Strickland agreed to my request of selling his farm to us. However, he died before the transaction was complete. I have often felt that it was a blessing that the sale was not completed until after his death, because he truly loved his little farm in Cotton.

For the last thirty seven years, (excepting a nine month stint in Ocala, FL), I have been one happy camper living in Cotton. It has become "my home". I never expect to leave it until my days are ended, with the Lord's blessing. Elaine and I have found a home in the Methodist church in Cotton as well. We have had the privilege of bringing up our children under the care of the Church and the admonition of the Lord. Blaine and the kids have built a home across the highway from us. We are excited in having them back in Cotton. The Johnsons, Melanie, Loys, Liam and Quinn are living in Huntersville, North Carolina. Melanie had previously lived in Seattle, Washington, Whitefish, Montana, Cedar Rapids, Iowa, Orlando, Florida and Atlanta, Georgia. Who knows where her next stop will be. Hopefully, Cotton, GA!

We've lost many of those we love over the years. Elaine's parents: Mr. Carl Strickland, July 15, 1970, Mrs. Emily Rivers Strickland on Dec. 13, 1990. My father, Joseph Dawson Brinkley, Jan. 29, 1992 and my grandmother, Leta Taylor Draughon, on Oct. 29, 1992. Others have preceded them: Grandmother Strickland and Grandfather Draughon, and who knows when our time will come to depart this life for the greater reward our heavenly Father has in store for us? May we be prepared! God has richly blessed this union of Cecil Lamar Brinkley and Ruth Elaine Strickland. I don't know why He has been so good to us, but I truly am grateful. May we continue to strive to make His ways our ways and His will our will. For the past forty four years, I have received much more than I have given, I have been treated more hospitably than been hospitable, I have received praise more than I have praised, I have been served more than I have served, but I have loved to the best of my ability, my God first, my wife and my children next, and my neighbors. To you, Elaine, I pledge the remainder of my years, faithfully. I trust that we shall continue to grow in the ways God would have us grow. You, our children and grandchildren are my Lord's reward on this earth. To this end I pledge my love!
